

Prayer Beads

Anglican prayer bead sets consist of thirty-three beads divided into groups.

There are four groups consisting of seven beads with additional separate and larger beads separating the groups.

The number 33 signifies the number of years that Christ lived on the Earth, while the number seven signifies wholeness or completion in the faith, the days of creation, and the seasons of the Church year.

The groupings are called “weeks.” The beads between and usually larger than the “weeks” beads are called “cruciform” beads. When the loop of beads is opened into a circular shape, these particular beads form the points of a cross within the circle of the set, hence the term “cruciform.”

Next after the cross on Anglican prayer bead sets is a single bead termed the “invitatory” bead, giving the total of thirty-three.

Praying with the prayer beads

The standard Anglican set consists of the following pattern: Start with the cross (1), then the Invitatory Bead (2), then the first Cruciform bead (3), moving to the right, through the first set of seven beads (4) to the next Cruciform bead, continuing around the circle. It is suggested that you pray around the circle three times (signifying the Holy Trinity). You may conclude by saying the Lord’s prayer on the invitatory bead and/or a final prayer on the cross as in the examples at right.
